

Instructions for Social Studies

- Do your best
- Ask if you need help, my email is shawns@banks.k12.or.us
- Feel free to write or type up answers and send them to me for feedback
- Infer-To imply is to hint at something, but to infer is to make an educated guess. The article does the implying, and the reader does the inferring. When you infer, you read closely and guess at things they mean but haven't actually said. It's like guessing, but not making wild guesses.

CURRENT EVENTS WORKSHEET

Title of Article: _____

Source: _____

WHO is this article about?

WHAT is this story about? List four facts from your article.

1.

2.

3.

4.

WHEN did this story take place?

WHERE is this event or issue occurring?

(Specify city, country, region, etc.)

WHY is this story important? (What does it have to do with what we are studying in class? Does it have anything to do with past events or issues? Why should we care about this? THINK!)

PREDICT what you think might happen as this story develops.

INFER Make an inference about one piece of information from the article that is not directly written.